DFF Competition Screenings

Filipiñana

At the heart of DFF are four competitions that champion bold storytelling and important voices. Across the International Feature, International Short, Ajyal and Made in Qatar selections, filmmakers from the Arab world and beyond compete for awards that recognise courage, imagination and craft, with every film rooted in its community and speaking to experiences that transcend borders.

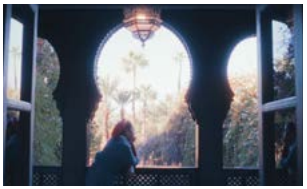

Made in Qatar

Jodari Meno

From intimate explorations of family and memory to inspiring documentaries and fantastical journeys, this year's Made in Qatar films show the growing diversity of talent shaping the nation's film industry, and the confidence of a creative ecosystem coming of age.

Special Screenings

The Roses of Marrakech

Beyond our official competitions, DFF proudly presents gala premieres, special screenings, restored classics, and Cinema Under the Stars, bringing together acclaimed international narratives, enlightening documentaries and compelling dramas that bring audiences closer to the world and to one another.

Cinema Alkhaleej

Salim Not Salim

Cinema Alkhaleej honours the diversity of storytelling from across the Gulf, through a slate of films that explore identity, heritage, social change and the complexity of human relationships, on a platform that empowers our region's filmmakers.

DFF Classics

The Battle of Algiers

The history of cinema is part of its future. DFF Classics presents restored screenings of 'The Battle of Algiers' (1966) and 'The Night of Counting the Years' (1969), two films whose urgency and beauty have only deepened with time.

Geekdom

Doha's largest pop culture event returns to DFF. Geekdom is a celebration of fandom in all its forms, bringing together gaming, cosplay, anime, art, and music, while championing Qatar's creative community and giving emerging talent a platform to shine. For more information and the event schedule, visit www.dohafilm.com

DFF Music

Music is part of how the festival further expands its mission to promote creativity, identity and cultural exchange. Our live programme spans hip-hop, R&B, electronic, Afrobeat and contemporary Arabic sounds, with regional trailblazers, international and emerging artists taking the stage over five nights.

DFF Talks

DFF Talks gathers filmmakers, artists, musicians, cultural leaders and journalists for talks and panels that ask where cinema and culture are heading and offer the stories behind the headlines.
Visit www.dohafilm.com for the full programme.

Presented as part of Design Doha 2026, 'Atlas of Cinematic Affinities: 15 Years of Doha Film Institute' expands the book into an immersive, sensorial exhibition. It maps the creative processes of filmmakers worldwide and the affinities between them, through image, sound, movement and archive.
